Dozens of people on Saturday attended National Night Out in Waveland. The event was hosted by the Hancock County Sheriff’s Office, Waveland Police Department, Bay St. Louis Police Department, and Hancock Youth for Positive Efforts (HYPE). Hancock County Sheriff’s Office Community Liaison Ernest Taylor said the event gives the public an opportunity to meet local law enforcement and first responders, and obtain information about resources available to the community. Taylor said that Saturday’s event went well for those that attended. “It was really exciting for the little ones that got the opportunity to experience it,” Taylor said. He added that he hopes more will participate in future events.

Missing Bay woman found alive and well

ECHO STAFF

The search for a missing Bay St. Louis woman had a happy ending on Saturday — Barbara Bond Prater was found alive and well, police said.

“It is a heartfelt pleasure for us to update that Barbara Prater has been located,” Police Chief Gary Ponthieux Jr. said in a press release Saturday evening. “She is being transported for a medical assessment, but is in good physical condition. Thank you for the thoughts, prayers and diligent efforts of our wonderful citizens and all those involved in the search and rescue efforts over the last several days.”

“Thank you to the Bay St. Louis Police Department!” Prater’s sister, Kay Bond Horne, said on Facebook. “We are full of gratitude and humbled by the caring men and women of not only this department but the BSL Firemen as well. A special thank you to Investigator Rachel Jewel who delivered this great news to us and kept us informed every step of the way. God bless each of you for locating my sister!”

Police have not yet announced what happened or where Prater was located.

Prater, 68, has last been seen at her home in the 400 block of Ruella Street in Bay St. Louis on Sept. 28.

Gulf Coast Search & Rescue team members and K-9 officers assisted in the search.

Phase II includes upgrades at the high school:

- Airside equipment upgrades (ESSER)
- Single Zone VAV conversion (ESSER)
- Gym ceiling replacement (non-ESSER)

- Roof restoration and weatherization (non-ESSER)
- Gutter and drain upgrades (non-ESSER)

Project summary for the elementary schools:

- Gymnasium HVAC upgrades at South Elementary, West Elementary, Middle School, and East Elementary (ESSER)

The projects that involve improving indoor air quality have a projected cost of about $4.5 million and will utilize ESSER funding. The total of the non-ESSER projects is about $2 million.

In December 2020, the board entered into its first contract with PATH for Phase I which included:

- District-wide LED lighting upgrades.
- HVAC equipment upgrades.
- HVAC controls upgrades.
- Supplementary energy conservation measures. Supplemental ECMs include utility rebates and energy efficiency programs at no cost to the district, ice machine economizers, and domestic hot water optimization.

Some of the larger PATH projects include the installation of a new chiller and boiler at Hancock High School and replacing a boiler and cooling tower at East Hancock Elementary.

Phase I is substantially complete, Watkins said.

“They are looking for a place to park up to - at any time - 400 vehicles,” he said. “The people would park at that location and then they’d be transported by bus to the Stennis Space Center.”

The company had been using some of the parking spots at the Hollywood Casino, Jones said, but there is not enough space to accommodate.

“It’s permitted as a matter of right at that location,” Jones said. “In addition, they want to employ our off-duty police officers. This company is willing to pay our off-duty officers $35 an hour. The police chief is strongly in favor of this.”

Jones asked the board to amend the agenda to authorize the city’s officers to start.

The board voted in favor of a contract between the city and Petroleum Helicopters Inc. to allow the use of off-duty police officers. Jones added that the officers will not be allowed to use patrol cars in the operation until the company can provide the city with liability insurance and comprehensive coverage on the city’s vehicles.

“Officers can use their own personal vehicles to come and travel to and from the site,” he said. “Now if the police chief wants to park a vehicle up there as a deterrent like he does in other locations, he can do that. They just won’t be able to use the vehicle for back and forth.

The contract also allows for the officers to use their city-issued uniforms. The contract’s tentative ending date is Jan. 4, 2022.

The motion passed unanimously.

“We had over a 140 units with close to 400 riders,” for the first Krewe of Boo parade, krewe co-founder and President Gayle Adams said last year. “The turnout for registered units was more than we anticipated, so we were very pleased. The crowds on the street were simply amazing. We were overwhelmed with emotion when we saw all the children on the route.”

Adams said she and group co-founder Brett Ladner were inspired to create the krewe and the parade “for these children who were isolated during the pandemic.”

The pair formed a limited liability corporation and immediately got to work planing the parade, crowning a pair of children as the krewe’s royalty.

Rocks blank Irish 42-0

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The Saint Stanislaus opened Division 8-3A play on the road last Friday night with a 42-0 shellacking of the St. Patrick Fighting Irish. The Rocks (2-3, 1-0) scored 21 points in each half, recovered a loose football, and picked off the Irish three times en route to the win. Davien Lagarde got the Rocks on the board on their first possession of the game with a 19-yard scoring run after five straight carries to open the game. Evan Noel converted on the PAT to make the score 7-0 with 3:41 left in the first quarter. The Rocks got the ball back after a quick three-and-out and Lagard picked up his second rushing touchdown of the game on a 25-yard carry to culminate the seven-play drive. Noel's PAT made the score 14-0. With 3:57 left to play in the half, Alex Fabra connected with Brandon Rhodes for a 15-yard scoring aerial. Noel converted on the PAT to make the halftime score 21-0. The second half started slow for SSC but with 1:51 left in the quarter, Lagarde found the endzone on a three-yard carry after an interception by Chesley Rhodes set up the scoring play. Noel made the score 28-0 with his PAT. After holding the Irish for a three-and-out, the Rocks put together a 10-play drive that ended with Fabra connecting with Ja'Kobe Cameron for a 20-yard touchdown with 6:43 left to play. Noel made the PAT pushing the score to 35-0. The final score for SSC came on a 27-yard pick-six from Cameron with 2:13 left to play. Noel made good on the PAT to make the final score 42-0. SSC head coach Nate Encrapera commented, "Our defense came out a little flat early in the game but we were able to focus in out assignments and shore some things up. We had a long first drive that took time off the clock and put us up. We have to clean up the penalties as our offense would have looked much better without them. We were not sharp on offense and we have to cure that this week. We need to get more focused on protecting the ball, being more balanced, and have better route-running in the passing game. There is a talented West Marion team coming to us next week and we have to be ready for their very best." The Rocks were led by Lagarde with 30 carries for 287 yards and three touchdowns. Fabra was 8-for-14 for 48 yards and two touchdowns. On defense, the Rocks were led by Ryan Tyler with nine total tackles with a hurry and pass break up followed by Benjamin Cabell with nine stops. Jackson Montjoy added the third interception for SSC. The Rocks will host West Marion next Friday 'between the walls' for Homecoming. West Marion (3-3) beat Seminary last night 27-21.

BAY HIGH DROPS DISTRICT OPENER TO GREENE COUNTY

BY MAURICE SINGLETON
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

Bay High was tested on both sides of the ball, but the Tigers had no answers for the Greene County Wildcats in Bay St. Louis on Friday. The Tigers dropped their district opener to the Wildcats 40-0. Greene County's defense held Bay High's potent running tandem of Noah Cutter and Carmello Simpson to under 100 yards, a fete that no other Tigers' opponent had accomplished this season. And on the other side of the ball, the Tigers' defense allowed two 100-yard rushers. Greene County sustained long drives all night with speed on the edges and occasionally between the tackles, which led to touchdowns on their first three possessions. "They just completely whipped us in every phase of the game," said Tigers' coach Jeremy Turcotte. "And that completely and utterly starts with me. I think we lacked energy. Again, that totally falls on my shoulders. "We had an excellent week of practice and I thought we felt like we were very prepared for everything we saw tonight," added Turcotte. "They didn't do anything that we didn't expect them to do. They were more physical than us, and we got outplayed and out coached. They wanted it more tonight." The Tigers' offense started strong, putting together a 9-play drive to the Greene County 27 yardline on their opening possession. But the drive ended with an interception, which the Wilcats capitalized off of, going

97 yards on 9 snaps to take a 13-0 lead with 7 seconds remaining on the first quarter clock. And once again, the Tigers' offense would respond with a sustained drive, advancing the ball to the Wildcats' 21 yardline on 12 plays. The Tigers would chisel at the yardage with the three biggest plays of the drive being a 7-yard Xander Ladner keeper, a 9-yard carry by Simpson and a 20-yard burst by Fisher DeCamp on a fake punt attempt. But the drive would come to an end as a 5-yard pass play from Ladner to Cutter fell short of a first down. And the Wildcats would go to work again, going 85 yards on ten plays to go up 20-0 with just under two minutes remaining in the second quarter. The Tigers put together a good drive to open the second half, advancing the ball to the visitors' 32 yardline, but the drive would end with a sack and a fumble, recovered by Greene County. And that was as good as it got for the Tigers' offense in the second half. The Tigers' defense would hold the Wildcats to a single first down on their ensuing possession and denied the visitors when they went for it on fourth down. However, Greene County would add 20 more points in the second half. Cutter led Tigers' ball carriers with 38 yards on 14 carries. Ladner completed nine of 15 passes for 90 yards and an interception. Ethan Galloway led Tigers' receivers with 35 yards on two receptions. Dalarrus Cooper led Greene County with 129 rushing yards and two touchdowns, followed by Kenneth Franks with 106 yards and three touchdowns. The loss dropped the Tigers' record to 4-2 (0-1, district) as they host Jefferson Rise Charter School out of Harvey, Louisiana, in a non-district contest on Friday at J.D. McCullough Stadium Tank Williams Field.

SHORE THING: THE BAPTISM OF FATHER MARK

Shore Thing Fishing Report
BY CPT. SONNY SCHINDLER

I start all of my trips the same way. I give the passengers a safety talk, and let them know where all the life jackets, and first aid equipment is. Next we do a quick VHF tutorial. After that we say a quick prayer. I knew something was different when one of the passengers asked to lead the prayer. He was way too good at his delivery of this blessing.

Enter Father Mark Ropel from St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church in Hattiesburg, MS. Father Mark and his buddies Glynn, Roger, and Sal are avid fishermen. It was an experienced fun crew, and they were real easy going.

The weather started out nice, and at the time we were on a good bite at Cat Island. The prayer definitely worked, the fish were everywhere. When we pulled up to first spot, the trout and redfish were crashing schools of mullet and pogies. The boys went straight to work, and started hammering on fish. I could barely keep up with these fellas. As soon as I was baiting one hook, another one was calling for help with a net.

After a good while, the bite slowed, but the fish box was loaded with big speckled trout and redfish.

I could here some of my buddies a little ways down the island. Their bite was still going good. We opted to move down, and check things out for ourselves. That's when we noticed the dark clouds building. We set up on a point, and the dark clouds started closing in fast. Our friends that called us in on the bite, were now planning their exit strategy. We had only made a few when casts when the other boats were easing out. I made the call, and said, "we gotta get outta here".

Father Mark was still on the bow when I hit the button on my trolling motor remote. I was in a hurry, not paying attention, and realized instantly I'd made a mistake. The 112 pound thrust trolling motor was set on full speed, and pointing hard starboard(right). It happened in less than a second, but the jolt send the boat one way, and Father Mark went the other. SPLASH!!!

It was less than waist deep water, but I was mortified. He was cool about it. Actually we all got a little wet. The rain finally caught us the last few minutes before we made it to Pass Harbor. Besides the accident and the rain, it was a really good haul of fish. After about 100 or so apologies, I let him know that it was this first time I'd ever baptized a priest...

weeks ago, she said.
The interim director is Coastal Mississippi's Director of Finance, Pam Tomasovsky, Moon said.
"We have an excellent team in place supporting our leisure efforts and our meetings and marketing efforts," she said. "All of our advertising is continuing. Nothing has stopped, nothing is changing."
However, Moon said there are some challenges on the board. Clay Wagner resigned from the board as he is running for Congress. Mark Henderson also resigned from the board. Two members from Jackson County — Carla Todd and Roxy Condrey — also resigned from the board.
"We all know we need to make some legislative changes and hopefully this board will work on getting that done, along with our mayors so that we can continue to be truly one coastal regional tourism," Moon said. "It is the right way to go and so we definitely need your support."
Moon also gave an update on the projected numbers for this year's income from hotel and short-term rental taxes.
"In 2017, we ended the year with an income of $132,000," Moon said. "This year, with two more months left, we're at $285,000. If August and September revenues come in, as I think they will, roughly $40,000 a month, September was a huge month for us. It was the best September in the eight years I've been open. Due to the destruction in Louisiana, they came to us for help, for accommodations, and I believe that we could end up the year at roughly $350,000 to $360,000. So, almost triple what we did four years ago."

Moon said that the hotel the Pearl is part of that, along with short-term rentals and the marketing efforts of Coastal Mississippi. She said that Louisiana residents are their biggest targets for advertising, both in radio, television, and digital.
In other action:
The board approved a motion proclaiming the month of October as Domestic Violence Awareness Month.
The board approved a motion to ratify the hiring of Jeremy Lawrence Ne-caise as the Assistant District Attorney for Hancock County.
The board appointed Jimmie Ladner to the Coast Mississippi board on an interim basis to replace Mark Henderson until the board finds a permanent person to take that seat. The board will also have to decide on who will replace Wagner.
Hancock County's Household Hazardous Waste is scheduled for Sat., Oct. 30 from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Hancock County Arena.
The board will host a public hearing on Nov. 1 at 1 p.m. regarding road petitions to accept or abandon certain roads in the county.
The next board meeting is scheduled for Oct. 18 at 9 a.m.

Listen to victims

The month of October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month.

According to the National Coalition Against Domestic Violence’s website, DVAM launched in October 1987 as a way to “connect and unite individuals and organizations working on domestic violence issues while raising awareness for those issues.”

NCADV defines domestic violence as the “willful intimidation, physical assault, battery, sexual assault, and/or other abusive behavior as part of a systematic pattern of power and control perpetrated by one intimate partner against another. It includes physical violence, sexual violence, threats, economic, and emotional/psychological abuse.”

The NCADV reports that more than 10 million adults in the U.S. experience domestic violence annually and on average, “nearly 20 people per minute are physically abused by an intimate partner in the U.S.”

According to a report published by NCADV in 2020, on one day in 2019, Mississippi domestic violence programs served “354 adult and child survivors. 57 requests for services went unmet due to lack of resources. Since the formation of the Mississippi Attorney General’s Office Domestic Violence Unit, Mississippi dropped from fifth highest in the nation to 22nd in the number of females murdered by men. Mississippi does not release intimate partner homicide data to the public. As of Dec. 31, 2019, Mississippi had submitted no domestic violence misdemeanor or protective order records to the NICS index.”

With regards to violence-related firearms laws in Mississippi, the law “does not explicitly prohibit respondents to protective orders from possessing firearms, it authorizes courts, when issuing emergency, ex parte, and final protective orders, to order whatever relief they deem necessary to protect victims and survivors. This may include prohibiting respondents, including dating partners, from possessing firearms and requiring them to surrender any firearms in their possession.”

The NCADV states that Mississippi can strengthen its laws to protect victims and survivors by: “Prohibiting domestic violence misdemeanors, dating violence misdemeanors and stalking misdemeanors from possessing firearms; prohibiting respondents to emergency, ex parte and final protective orders from possessing firearms; requiring persons prohibited due to domestic violence to surrender all firearms in their possession; if requested by the survivor, requiring law enforcement to recover all firearms and ammunition when responding to domestic violence calls; and requiring background checks for all sales and transfers.”

After reading all that, I believe that Mississippi can

Hancock History: Hickory Creek

James Lee was born in Benville, MS, on May 1, 1935. Benville is a neighborhood adjacent to the Catahoula Creek on the Lott McCarty Road. The township is named after the Reverend Ben Tony who founded the Benville Church around 1942 on the corner of Benville Road and the Lott McCarty Road. Back in the day, these two roads were the byways farmers traveled on to take their crops and animals to market that connected Nicholson to Waveland and the Bay. His father, Curtis Daniel Lee (1900-1990), and his mother, Ina Smith (1912-1968), had an open range cattle farm at the fork of the Hickory and Catahoula Creeks, which are two major branches of the Jourdan River in this area. This farm is now in the Buffer Zone. The family was forced to move and build another house at another location nearby. They also raised goats and hogs. The family attended the Benville Church and James is a builder of houses and an ordained Baptist preacher. The Benville Church is the cultural center of this village which is a necessary and vital part of the history of Catahoula since the inhabitants of these two neighborhoods are so closely related, and their lives so intertwined. James married Flora Beth Miller (1938-2019) who was from the nearby village of Flat Top. Curtis and Ina are buried in the cemetery adjacent to the Catahoula Baptist Church on Highway 43.

James’s grandfather, Jesse Joseph Lee (1875-1941), married Lusier Mitchell (1878-1964) who was also a local cattle farmer with eighty acres and twenty cows.

They had originally moved from Henleyfield, Mississippi, in 1906. Henleyfield is a historic settlement in early Hancock County named after Jeremiah Henley. It became a popular destination for early settlers from the Carolinas. Rubin Lee, was the first Lee from this branch of the Lee family to migrate from North Carolina around 1825. There is a separate clan of Lees that settled in Leetown, Mississippi who are distant relatives from North Carolina.

Robert Seal (1946-2020) was born at the Kings Daughters and Sons Hospital in Bay St. Louis. He married Carolyn Cath (1945-2020) who is buried at the Standard Sandhill Cemetery. Robert was a gunsmith and owned and operated a sporting goods store on the CC Road. He owned 110 acres of land comprised mostly of forest. Robert is the son of Elmer William Seal (1904-1978) and Cora Rozelia Ladner (1911-1967). They had ten children and a one hundred acre farm on the Green Brown Road. They grew sweet potatoes and had twenty-five cows. Elmer supplemented his income by working at the Ingalls Ship Yard in Pascagoula Mondays through Fridays. Elmer was a builder who worked on the Dummy Line railroad spur that became the main throughfare through Catahoula after the Sawmill ended. It is now the Dummy Line Road.

Mary Elizabeth Seal, Robert’s sister, went to the Catahoula Grammar School. She and Robert would visit their cousins, James Lee, and his seven siblings, which was in walking distance from their house, but on the other side of the Catahoula Creek. There is a ford in the Catahoula Creek; and since the two farmhouses were each other’s closest neighbors, the eighteen children waded across the creek every day to visit each other and play. The ford could be crossed with a tractor or a pickup truck. Years ago a wagon might cross the ford when the creek had risen and float behind horses or mules.

Robert’s grandfather was Lawsen Seals who was a farmer with three hundred acres on the Dummy Line Road. He grew cotton and raised geese and cattle. The geese ate the weeds around the cotton plants and were sold for their meat. Lawsen might take a flock of geese by foot to the Kiln for market, which might take all day. Lawsen married Magnolia but their marriage was unhappy and they were separated. Robert’s great grandfather, Daniel Seals, married Mary Elizabeth and lived in Pine Grove, Mississippi, where he is buried. They had originally emigrated

Pediatricians send urgent message to school leadership, teachers, and parents

Mississippi has unfortunately recorded two additional pediatric deaths this past week, bringing the total for the month of September to 3, the highest month ever during the pandemic.

There have been 6 pediatric deaths in our state since the end of July, which is double what was reported the entire previous 16 months.

MASKS

Some schools have begun to relax their mask mandates as community cases have started to decline. MSAAP urges school boards, superintendents, teachers, and parents to continue with masks requirements in all indoor school settings to slow the transmission of COVID-19.

Two studies published this past week add to the abundant literature that masks in the school setting work. The study from the MMWR found that “after adjusting for potential described confounders, the odds of a school-associated COVID-19 outbreak in schools without a mask requirement were 3.5 times higher than those in schools with an early mask requirement.”

VACCINATIONS

MSAAP also continues to encourage vaccinations of all eligible students, parents, teachers, and staff ages 12 and up. Mississippi currently ranks 47 out of 51 in percentage of the population fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and we rank #1 in the nation in COVID-19 case fatality rate.

HOSPITALIZATIONS

There is one pediatric Children’s Hospital in Mississippi, and it is again seeing a rise in acute cases of COVID-19 and MIS-C. While the total number of COVID-19 cases hospitalized at UMMC has dropped (adults and children), cases in children under 12 who are unable to be vaccinated now account for 31% of all hospitalizations. Dr. Charlotte Hobbs, professor of pediatric infectious disease at Children’s of Mississippi states, “Acute COVID hospitalizations are increasing again it seems and it is timed exactly with schools dropping mask requirements.”

MSAAP is available to provide pediatricians to speak to school leadership and parents.

and should absolutely do better to protect victims of domestic violence.

Since I was a teen, I watched a lot of Lifetime movies, back when they were good. Many of them were based on true stories.

Nowadays, while watching one of the older films, I can look up the specific case.

There was a movie with Nancy McKeon called “A Cry for Help: The Tracey Thurman Story.”

The story took place in Torrington, Connecticut.

I rewatched it recently. While the film is a piece of drama, the violence committed by Charles Thurman on Tracey Thurman was not a work of fiction, nor was the lack for response from the Torrington Police Department.

Time and time again, Tracey went to the police to report her abusive husband, whom she had managed to separate from.

According to the case brief of Thurman v. City of Torrington, on Nov. 9, 1982, Charles broke the windshield of her car while she was inside. He was convicted of breach of peace and received a suspended sentence of six months in jail and a two-year “conditional discharge.” During this period, he was ordered to stay away from Tracey.

But he didn’t, and Tracey, who thought she was doing the right thing, called the police department again and again to report his violations. Her attempts to get him arrested for his crimes went unheard.

“On June 10, 1983, Charles appeared at the residence where Tracey was staying,” the brief states. “Tracey, remaining indoors, called the police department and asked that Charles be arrested for violation of the conditional discharged. After about 15 minutes, Tracey went outside to persuade him not to take her or hurt Charles, Jr. Soon thereafter, Charles began to stab Tracey in the chest, neck, and throat.

Approximately 25 minutes after Tracey’s call, a single police officer arrived at the scene. When the officer arrived, Charles dropped the knife, and in the officer’s presence, kicked Tracey in the head and ran into the house. Charles returned from the house holding Charles, Jr., and dropped the child on his wounded mother. Charles then kicked Tracey in the head a second time. Soon thereafter, three more police officers arrived at the scene, but continued to let Charles wander about the crowd and to continue to threaten Tracey. Finally, when Charles approached Tracey again (this time, she was lying on a stretcher) Charles was arrested and taken into custody.”

Tracey become the first woman in the country to sue a town and its police department for violating her civil rights.

According to the brief, the court found that “Tracey was discriminated against because the violence was a domestic dispute. The evidence showed that police protection was fully provided to persons abused by someone with whom the victim had no domestic relationship, but the police consistently afforded lesser protection when the victim was a woman abused or assaulted by a spouse or boyfriend or when a child was abused by the father or stepfather. The court awarded Tracey $2.3 million.”

According to the July 2010 Domestic Violence Examiner, Tracey spent seven months in the hospital. The left side of her body was able to function, but she had no tactile sensation. The right side of her body retained tactile sensation, but she had lost 80 percent of her motor skills.

Charles Thurman only served seven years for his crimes.

I rewatched this film a few months ago and was horrified that it took this level of violence for something to be done with Charles. Even more horrified that the Torrington police officers watched it play out in real time and did nothing.

Just because someone wears a wedding ring or has a romantic attachment to someone does not give them the right to physically or mentally abuse. And the victims ABSOLUTELY fall under that “serve and protect” guideline.

Recently, I watched “The 24 Faces of Billy Milligan” on Netflix. He was a serial rapist who blamed his crimes on his multiple personalities. It’s an interesting watch and I’m still not sure what to think of it all.

However, Billy said — which was corroborated by his siblings — that the children witnessed their stepfather repeatedly abuse their mother. When the police officers came out during a particular heinous incident, Billy states that the officers told him, “she should have been a better wife.”

Yeah, that’s not the right answer.

Since the stepfather never paid for his crimes upon the mother, he then went on to sexually and physically abuse Billy.

While times have changed and more laws have been enacted to help victims of domestic violence, I wonder if it will ever be enough. If the cycles aren’t stopped, the children will potentially become the abusers and so on and so on. And some don’t, some use their experiences to fight for change, better laws, and harsher punishments for abusers.

As a result of Tracey’s nightmare, the Thurman law was created, which called for mandatory arrests in wife-beating cases in Connecticut and several other states.

I know it’s difficult to get out of an abusive situation and I don’t judge anyone who stays. A lot of the time it’s out of fear or a misguided sense of loyalty and love.

But if they are ready for help, all we can do is offer a helping hand, guide them towards resources, and don’t make it so easy for abusers to escape punishment.

Locally, the Gulf Coast Center for Nonviolence serves victims of domestic violence or sexual assault. The 24/7 crisis line is 800-800-1396. The website is www.gccfn.org.

from Germany.

The fourth important family in Catahoula is the Mitchell Family. Rayford Mitchell had a large dairy farm in the 1940’s on Mitchell Road not far from the family farm of James Lee. As a boy, James Lee had a part time job milking Rayford’s forty milk cows at dawn. Five Lee children married Mitchell kin and others married into the Seal family. Michael Randolph Seal currently lives on the old Mitchell land on the Seal Oak Alley Road. He is the great grandson of Magnolia Mitchell who married Lawsen Green Seal. There is a Mitchell Cemetery on this property that dates back to the Civil War. At that time, a company of Yankee soldiers was camped out on the adjacent Hickory Creek. They had suffered many casualties and the Mitchell family nursed and cared for these wounded Yankee soldiers. Some of these soldiers did not survive and were buried behind the old farmhouse, which became the old Mitchell Cemetery where family members have been buried for 150 years.

In conclusion, some of the most attractive farmland in Hancock County is located in the neighborhood affectionately known as Catahoula. Early pioneer farmers from the Dosset, Seal, Lee, and Mitchell families migrated overland along the Old Federal Road to homestead this fertile landscape. Their descendants successfully managed the land with cattle farming and various cash crops, and still proudly own this land that their forefathers farmed, on the old byways such as the Old Dummy Line Road. In a forthcoming article, the history of the neighboring communities of Leetown and Caesar will be presented.

PATRICIA POOLSON PITALO

Patricia Poolson Pitalo, age 84, passed away on September 30, 2021. Patricia, or “Pokey” as her friends called her, was born in Bay St. Louis, MS, on November 15, 1936 to Charles B. Poolson and Bernice C. Poolson. Patricia graduated from St. Joseph’s Academy in 1955. She married Anthony “Buddy” Pitalo, Jr. on July 21, 1957 and was his loving wife for fifty-nine years until he passed in 2017. Patricia was a devout member of the Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church all her life. Patricia’s first job was at the telephone company, but she went on to work for the Bay-Waveland School District for 32 years. She handled their payroll for many years, as well as at the Silver Slipper Casino after she retired. During this time, she and her husband were co-proprietors of Bud’s Catfish House for ten years. Once the restaurant was sold in 2006, Pat and Buddy dedicated their time to traveling and spending time with grand-children and eventually great grand-children. “Mimi” never hesitated to baby-sit or attend sporting events just to spend time with them all. Her family was her priority, but this also included her church family. Patricia was a member of the Rabboni Ministry of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church since its inception in 1988. She was a group leader for quite some time and enjoyed collecting donations and serving other members of the Church in their time of need. Her other interests included being a member of the St. Joseph’s Academy Alumnae. She served on a committee of eight who worked diligently to solicit and collect funds in order to establish a St. Joseph’s Academy memorial marker in honor of her alma mater. Patricia was preceded in death by her devoted husband, Anthony G. Pitalo, Jr.; her parents, Mr. & Mrs. Charles B. Poolson; and her brothers, Francis “Jerry” Poolson and Charles “Blackie” Poolson. She is survived by her children, Catherine R. Pitalo, Donald A. Pitalo (Carolyn), David C. Pitalo (Cathy), and Cynthia P. Wasilenko (Clayton); and her sister, Audrey “Pnut” Mader. She was a loving grandmother to her grand-children, Courtney P. Rich (John), Moira Nix-Chester (Shane), Anthony Pitalo, Allyson Pitalo, Ryan Pitalo, Caroline Pitalo, Hannah Pitalo, and Abbie Sawyer. Patricia was also blessed to have eight great grandchildren, Dominique, Cayler Ann, Jayden, Beckam, Harley, Lawson, Skylar, and Brynn. The family would like to thank her caregivers at Seashore Highlands and Notre Dame Hospice. They would also like to thank her home caregivers Danielle Harris, Ciara Allen, Tammy Allen, Dorothy Todd, Tracy Buchanan, and Sharon Antoine. Visitation was held at 11:00 am at Edmond Fahey Funeral Home with Mass that followed at 12:00 pm at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church on October 4, 2021. A private burial service will be held later in the week. Edmond Fahey Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

VIOLET ESPERANCE SIEWERT

Violet Esperance Siewert, a loving mother, wife, daughter, sister, aunt, grandmother, great-grandmother and friend, left her earthly body on Wednesday, September 29, 2021. Violet was born on August 24, 1943, and with her strong Cajun accent, it was no secret to any, that she was born and raised in New Orleans, La. She graduated from John McDonogh High School, where she was the Vice President of their Distributive Education Club. She is preceded in death by her loving husband, James Siewert Sr. and her baby boy, James “Boogie” Siewert. She is also preceded in death by her parents, John J. Esperance Sr. and Florence Jenne Esperance; her brother, Jason Esperance; her sisters; Myra Elizabeth Esperance Spiess and Janis Esperance LaGrange, along with her son-in-law, Marlin Paul Curol, and grandson, Brandon Curtis Thomas. Violet leaves behind four proud daughters; Candy Brister, Terry “Cookie” Curol, Tabitha Thomas, and Wendy Siewert, her Poopsie. She leaves behind 9 grandchildren: Kristian, Brittany, Keisha, Tim Jr. (Addrienne), Brennen, Brice, Brooke, Whitney (Adam), and Josh. She also leaves behind 11 great-grandchildren, who loved her dearly; Kaejiah, Keziah, Kaedin, Kaelin, Kaezleigh; Landen and Peyton, Alex; Addalyn, Harbor Grace, and Whittynn “Biscuit.” And last, she leaves behind two brothers; John Esperance Jr. and Joseph Esperance (Donna), along with a sister, Peggy Strassel, and countless nieces and nephews. Violet resided in Bay St. Louis,

MS where she enjoyed slot tournaments on the weekends and keeping her family fed through buffet and fine dining dinner comps. Throughout her high school career, she was a detail clerk in a department store in the drapery department. Then later in life, she spent several years working with PPG Industries where she later retired. Violet was known for her vibrant holiday decorations, especially during Christmas time. Her love for holiday decorating was evident in the way she shared the holiday magic and seasons with her children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. She also never let a holiday pass without pulling some sort of prank on a family member. She was truly a blessing to be around. Decorating for holidays wasn’t her only love. The Mardi Gras season also stole her heart. She was involved with several Mardi Gras Crews throughout her life, and was an avid “parade goer.” You could often find her on almost every local parade route, with beads around her neck, ready to catch all that she could no matter her age or ability. Her love for Mardi Gras didn’t stop there. Violet and her husband, James, were loyal members of Farhad Grotto. These UNITS could always be found riding their dune buggies in local parades. They were known as the “Bug Patrol.” Farhad Grotto actively supports a charity which helps children with special needs in Dentistry. Violet’s New Orleans heritage shined through with the excitement and entertainment in which she displayed when participating in the “Second Line Dance.” This was one of her favorite dances, and she made that known at every family wedding. She was active in coaching youth sports with the Kenner Recreation Department in Kenner, La, along with coaching cheerleading at Gulfview Elementary School in Bay St. Louis, MS where she also dedicated lots of her time as a substitute teacher, Booster Club Member, and a bus driver. She was well-known throughout Gulfview Elementary and other Hancock County Schools, for her dedication and support. As she grew older, her favorite thing to do was to sit outside under her carport, chatting with whomever had stopped by at the time, while watering all “thousand” of her plants, as she watched the hummingbirds take over the area. The Matriarch of our family will be greatly missed by us all, and we pray that she is surrounded by all the hummingbirds she could ever imagine, while sipping on a glass of tea with a freshly squeezed lemon. “If we live, we live for the Lord; and if we die, we die for the Lord. So, whether we live or die, we belong to the Lord.” -Romans 14:8. Visitation was held Tuesday, October 5, 2021 at Edmond Fahey Funeral Home from 11:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. with a prayer service at 1:00 p.m. Interment followed at Bayou LaCroix Cemetery in Bay St. Louis. Edmond Fahey Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

Doing business in great waters

By C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.*C. Gerald Richardson, D. Min.

One of the great (and often overlooked) quotes in scripture is from Psalm 107. “They that go down to the sea in ships; that do business in great waters; these see the works of the Lord and his wonders in the deep.”

The people of the ancient world were in awe of the sea. They were familiar with it, but they also knew of its danger, its capacity to overwhelm them, and the threat to their very lives which it imposed. They often utilized the sea for fishing or for transportation from place to place, but they knew that the sea could be a fickle ally. The waves could become threatening. Storms could arise without warning. Ships (which were often fragile) could break apart and leave them at the mercy of the waters.

It is hardly surprising then that the Psalmist would use the metaphor of the sea to speak of the challenges of life. While the terrors of the sea could be fearful, they understood that going to the sea was both actually and symbolically a meaningfully way of addressing the challenges of life.

Some timid souls avoided the sea. They understood the threats that it embodied so they just stayed away from it. Others confronted their fears, or pushed them aside, and went out to sea in order to gain the benefits which it held.

In our own coastal region there are many people who can identify with this truth..

Considering this text from the Psalmist reminds us that this is an important way of thinking about life. Some of us prefer the safety of the shallows. We prefer to stay close to the shore. We value the comfort and security of careful living. We choose to avoid risk when possible, and we long for the certainty of firm ground under our feet. Others are more bold. These are the folks who are willing to take risks in order to experience the possibilities which might await in the deeper waters of life.

There is spiritual truth to be found here.. Are we willing to risk emotional, physical, financial or other aspects of life in order to achieve something which may have profound impact for good in the world? Are we willing to “go down to the sea in ships and do business in great waters” in the interest of a great cause?

History is replete with the stories of those who embraced causes worthy of risk-taking. From the accounts of those who founded our country, to those who struggled for the emancipation of slaves, to the pioneers of civil rights, to the leaders of equality for women, and so much more, we are better and more free because of those who dared to “do business in great waters”.

May we remember the words of the Psalmist and pray for the courage and wisdom of such a spirit.

May we be willing to “go down to the sea in ships and do business in great waters” so that we might see the works of the Lord.

The 25th annual Cruisin' the Coast is under way, and thousands of visitors from all over the country will be cruising their classic cars into Hancock County from now through Saturday evening.

"It's the 25th anniversary, which is very exciting," Hancock Tourism Director Myrna Green said last week. "I was involved in the very first one, and it's hard to believe it's been 25 years. We're expecting a big one. People are ready to get out and do things that they can do outside. We're looking for a big, big turn-out, and we're excited about the benefits it will bring to the county and to Old Town Bay St. Louis."

Green said that 8,043 Cruisers had pre-registered for this year's event by August -- up more than 700 from the 2019 pre-pandemic Cruisin' the Coast.

"The record for pre-registration was 8,620, so that's not too far off the record year," Green said, "and three of the last four years, Cruisin' the Coast has been named the Number One Car Show in the United States."

"We've got 1,295 people registered that are first-time Cruisers, which is wonderful, and the pre-registration consists of 45 states and Canada."

Green said that hundreds more are expected to register on-site, and roughly one-third of the Cruisin' visitors each year are not even registered -- they're just here to see the cars.

PARTY TIME

Cruisin' the Coast -- billed by its organizers as "America's Largest Block Party" -- officially began Oct. 4 in Gulfport.

Car enthusiasts from 45 states plus Puerto Rico, Canada and Sweden drive to the Mississippi Gulf Coast once a year to showcase their rides and to cruise our beautiful 30-mile stretch of beachside highway with designated stops in Bay St. Louis, Diamondhead, Biloxi, D'Iberville, Gulfport, Pass Christian and Ocean Springs.

BLESSING OF THE CLASSICS

The first Hancock County venue for this year's event opens today, Wednesday, Oct. 6 -- with the ninth annual Blessing of the Classics in Diamondhead.

Mark Duffy, founder and chairman of the event for the city, said registered vehicles are invited to the staging area on the south side of Diamondhead beginning at noon.

At 3 p.m., they will drive their rides around a scenic route on Diamondhead Drive East and Lanai Drive where they will have their classic cars blessed by priests and pastors from different denominations. Each participating car owner will receive a Blessing of the Classics registration and insurance card holder with the Blessing of the Classics logo (while supplies last) and a commemorative certificate.

MOPAR DAY IN DA BAY

For the second year in a row, Mopar enthusiasts from around the country will celebrate "Mopar Day in Da Bay" at the historic Bay St. Louis Depot grounds on Thursday, Oct. 7, from 9:30 a.m.-7 p.m. Admission is "a smile and a hello," and there will be free food, giveaways and live music provided by Assumed Risk from 12:30-3:30 p.m. and Joni Compretta & Baytown Groove from 4-7 p.m.

City of Diamondhead to host 9th annual Blessings of the Classics

SEA COAST ECHO

The city of Diamondhead will kick off 2021 Cruisin' the Coast festivities in Hancock County with the ninth annual Blessing of the Classics today, Wednesday, Oct. 6.

Since the original blessing's organizers Mark Duffy, Hank Holcomb and Wayne Cooper started the event in 2013, it has grown exponentially. It has become a family tradition not only for Diamondhead residents, who have "tailgate" parties out on their lawns as the classic cars roll by, but also for the Cruisers themselves, who return year after year.

"The cars just kept coming and coming," Duffy — still the chairman of the annual event — said. "You'd have thought we were handing out hundred-dollar bills or something."

Registered vehicles are invited to the staging area (south of I-10, Exit 16) and then join the parade through the

They will be instructed by many of the 100-plus resident volunteers working the event as to where and how to park in preparation for the

The blessing lasts from 3 to 6 p.m.
Each blessed classic will receive Lagniappe, a license registration holder and insurance card holder with the Blessings of the Classic logo.
The event will culminate at the

“The city of Diamondhead really steps up to do their level best every year to make this a very interesting and well-attended event,” Duffy said.
